06 Design Principles & Voice

The standards that govern every interface decision and every word we publish.

PRINCIPLE 01

Clarity over Cleverness

Every screen, label, and data point must communicate its meaning at a glance. Decorative complexity is never a substitute for functional transparency.

PRINCIPLE 02

Earned Trust

Trust is not asserted through marketing language. It is earned through accurate data, honest comparisons, and a UI that never obscures costs or terms.

PRINCIPLE 03

Restraint as a Feature

We do not animate for the sake of animating. We do not add color for the sake of vibrancy. Every design decision must serve the user's next action.

VISUAL RULES

DON'T No glow or blur effects. Avoid box-shadow glow, backdrop blur on cards, and animate-ping indicators. All surfaces stay flat and intentional.

DO Use opacity for transitions. State changes (hover, press, disabled) are communicated through opacity shifts or subtle background color steps, never movement.

DON'T No float or bounce animations. Interactive elements must not lift, scale up, or float on hover. Motion is reserved for meaningful navigation transitions.

DO Maintain contrast strictly. Dark text never appears on dark surfaces. Light text never appears on light surfaces. WCAG AA compliance is the minimum bar.

DON'T No unsanctioned colors. Introduce new colors only via design token updates. Ad-hoc hex values in components are not permitted.

TERMINOLOGY & COPY

DO Use accurate financial terms. Use "Interest Rate" for existing traditional debt. Use "Profit Rate" only when referring to the new Sharia-compliant refinancing offer. Write "Financing Amount" not "Loan Amount".

DO Prefer plain financial language. Write "Total Profit Paid" not "Financing Cost". Write "Monthly Instalment" not "EMI" unless a tooltip is present to define the abbreviation.

DON'T No em-dashes. The em-dash (—) is not part of OLFi's typographic voice. Use a period, a colon, or restructure the sentence.

DON'T No filler phrases. Eliminate AI-inflected phrases such as "Absolutely!", "Great question!", "Certainly!", or "It's worth noting that". Every sentence must carry weight.

DON'T No vague reassurances. Do not write "We take your privacy seriously" or "We're here to help" without actionable context. Say what you will do, not how you feel about it.
